

KENDALL ELEVEN READY FOR GAME

Tulsa Gridsters Ready to Meet All-Stars Tomorrow.

Periods of vigorous practice in exceptionally warm football weather have removed what was considered the greatest handicap of the Tulsa Gridsters, the lack of practice. The team, which has been considered a possible point of weakness in the local team, it has been pointed out that in only one big game during the past season did the Tulsa Gridsters play against a team of the Oklahoma All-Stars at McNally park tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and a change in the training program was looked for today.

The orange and black coaching staff continued to devote its attention to defense tactics, which have been considered a possible point of weakness in the local team. It has been pointed out that in only one big game during the past season did the Tulsa Gridsters play against a team of the Oklahoma All-Stars at McNally park tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and a change in the training program was looked for today.

From a spectator's point of view there is no prettier system than the overhead tactics as it gives an open view to all, whereas the scrimmage and line plunge must be followed by an expert and then if not directly in the range of vision the play will be missed.

Through the Oklahoma All-Stars have been scored upon but once in four years, Kendall players are by no means depressed at the outlook as the many upsets of the 1919 season had an exhilarating effect on spreading a cloud of depression. The better eleven of both east and west were more evenly matched than ever before, and the surprising ability of a majority of teams to play brilliantly and aggressively at unexpected times helped make the season one of a thousand thrills.

Former Stars Play. Though Kendall created records during the prior campaign, they had an aggregate record of 1916 marveled a 10 strike and filled in with the nucleus of last year's team. Young, Wallace, DeWesse, Springer, Miller, Roy Young, Wilcox and Jolley will bring back to memory the halcyon days of the memorable 1916 machine.

So the season opened with a "sell out" tendency and as the Harvard-Oregon confab will be witnessed by a S. R. O. attendance the local pastime should also play to a capacity house, as it will be the last opportunity to pay homage to the heroes of a remarkable run of achievements.

Pastboards can be purchased at Young Bros. cigar store, 12 East Third street, Butternut bar, Robinson Arcade and Tulsa Indian Trading company, 314 South Main street.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR INJURY

Minor Struck by Auto Says Accident Due to Negligence of Driver. Damages of $25,000 were asked in superior court yesterday by Jack B. Rainey, a minor, against A. T. Hingle, the plaintiff, alleging he was struck by an automobile driven by the plaintiff December 9, as the result of which accident he will be a cripple for life.

Rainey states in his petition that he had abandoned a disabled jitney at Second street and Frankfort avenue, when the defendant, driving an automobile at an excessive speed on the wrong side of the street, ran into and over the plaintiff, injuring him from which the petitioner will never recover.

Mrs. Choate Is Convalescing. Mrs. W. G. Choate, who has been so seriously ill at her home in the Hotel Oxford, is now much better. Mrs. Choate contracted pneumonia during the gas shortage.

MRS. LENTZ SAYS SHE SUFFERED FOR 10 YEARS

Makes Special Trips to Tulsa for Orgatone—Only Treatment That Ever Relieved Her.

"Four bottles of Orgatone treatment have done me more good in my severe case of stomach and gall stone trouble than all the other medicine and treatments I have taken put together," said Mrs. Emma Lentz, wife of a well known merchant residing at Broken Arrow, Okla., while in Roy R. Geiman's drug store a few days ago for more of the treatment.

"I was told repeatedly that my stomach, kidney, and gall stone trouble couldn't be cured and that I was dependent on it so that I didn't know what to do. I had a severe headache and sometimes my heart would palpitate and many a time I felt like I would faint. My stomach was in such a bad condition that I couldn't digest my food properly and this had gone on for 10 years until it looked like nothing would ever do me any good."

"Friends of mine, who knew about my condition, advised me to try the Orgatone treatment and their recommendation proved to be priceless. I have taken four bottles altogether and my improvement is wonderful. I can eat anything I want and am building up every day. Both myself and husband can't say too much in praise of Orgatone as it has proved, beyond the question of a doubt, to be far superior to anything I have ever tried in my many years of misery."

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy, but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Tulsa by Roy R. Geiman's Retail Store exclusively under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Other agents are the Retail store, West Tulsa—Advt.

Monday's Fights

At Jersey City, Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, will oppose Young (Johnny) Al Baltimore in eight rounds.

Gene Tunney, stopped Bob Pearce in the second round of a scheduled eight-round bout.

Tom Cusack, secured a technical knockout over Al Fitch in the third round.

At Cleveland—Jack Wolfe, of Cleveland, won a newspaper decision over Earl Pyle of Florida, in 10 rounds.

At Syracuse—Jack Sharkey, of New York, won over Marty Collins by a shade in a 10-round bout.

Learning that Tulsa was rapidly developing into the sport center of Oklahoma, Herbert L. Morse, amateur welterweight champion of the army, navy and marine corps on the Pacific coast, arrived here yesterday, seeking a bout.

Morse was most recently discharged from the navy, putting seven months at the training station near San Francisco. Having boxed at 125, 135, 145, and in the oil fields, Morse quickly got on as a boxing line, and he was opposed repeatedly by sailors, marines and soldiers, but won every engagement.

Before the war he won an eight-round decision over Sailor Adams, well known in the west.

"Six-shooter" Morse weighs 148 and is in good condition.

CHARGE TWO WITH ROBBERY

Men Accused of Robbing Restaurant Held for Trial at Hearing.

Held for trial by the district court on the charge of conjoint robbery, A. Roark and Ed McClain were committed to jail yesterday at the conclusion of their preliminary hearing before Justice H. J. Gray, under bond of $2,000. Roark waived his hearing and the court after hearing the testimony against McClain, held both men for trial.

A. A. Manus, cashier at the Grand cafe, 113 East Second street, claims the two defendants came into that place of business on the night of December 19, and after drawing revolvers, took $24 from the cash register and fled.

DEPENDANTS BOND FORFEITED

Man Arrested as Fugitive From Justice Not in Court.

Elmer Hansen, arrested in this city December 22 and held under bond of $500 on a fugitive warrant, forfeited his bond in the court of Justice H. J. Gray yesterday when the case was called for trial.

Grant Pilkington, chief of city detectives, who made the arrest, claims Hansen is wanted in Chicago, Ill., for trial on the charge of wife and child abandonment.

WILLS TO MEET JOHNSON JAN 12

Foremost Negro Heavyweights to Box at Grand Theater.

John Lester Johnson, powerful New York negro, and challenger for the world's negro heavyweight championship, which following his victory over Sam Langford here last fall, is the property of Harry Wills, writes confidently regarding his ability to beat Wills, when he meets the great negro title holder here at the Grand theater January 12.

The bout is staged under the direction of the Grand Athletic club at the Grand theater.

Johnson is one of the few remaining great negro heavyweights ranking with Jack Thompson, Joe Jeanette Sam Langford, Kid Norick and Wills as the leading scrappers among the negro race and his appearance in a Tulsa ring will be watched with great interest by Tulsa fight devotees.

Promoter Walker Machen is negotiating with several well known lightweights to meet Frankie Tucker in the main event in the weekly show Saturday night. Otto Wallace's inability to box here, due to a prior engagement, necessitated a change of plans.

Fans and Players. Expect Others' Grounds to be in Good Shape.

In keeping with modern baseball ground management, Manager Abbott of the Tulsa association is having the infield graded. Caretakers are now putting in the sod. Results show that a sodded field, if mown daily and kept up, permits a team to play immediately after a rain. It also is greatly to the appearance of the grounds.
